- Integrate to other business devices and systems

AWARD, the company

Award Business Software Pty Ltd was established in 1990 and specialises in the design and production of a range of commercial industrial software packages. Servicing the needs of businesses using Weighbridges such as Quarries, Landfills and Transfer Stations, Logging and Product Movement applications. We also produce applications for the Concrete industry, Industrial Hire, Lab Analysis / Sieve Analysis and a number of other specific applications designed to meet a key business need.

If you have an industrial application, weighbridge, concrete plant, then we have the package to improve your productivity and profits. We have advanced features in our products that allow you to obtain additional margin in areas that traditionally were not feasible.

All of our products run under current Microsoft Technologies and operating systems Windows Vista, Windows XP, Windows 2000 and Windows 9.x.

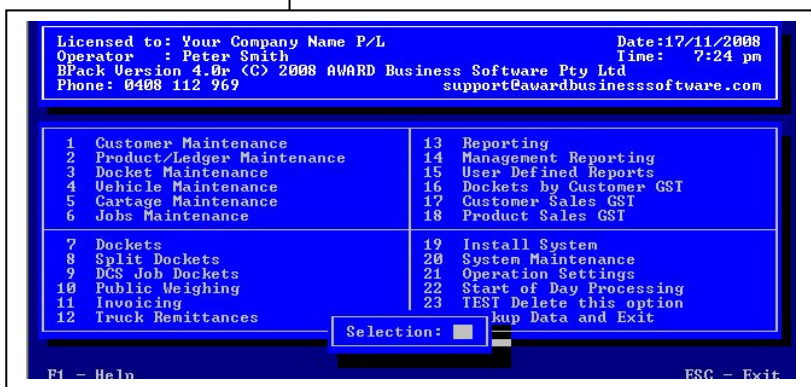

Saving you Money !

We pride ourselves on using the most cost effective and business effective technology to achieve effective results for your business. We are not technology “show ponies”. We recommend the most cost effective solutions that provide you with tangible results.

Experience Counts !

Across our organization we have many decades of experience in the industrial arena. We understand the industry, the terminology, and your business objectives. We can provide both standard and customised applications for your operations. AWAR applications typically improve productivity and accuracy. We have applications in companies with minimal transactions per month through to high volume sites that typically can have thousands of transactions per month.

Our product and service offerings come without the conflict of interests of many companies in the industry. We don't sell hardware (yet integrate with most devices), or have any direct affiliations with Weighbridge companies (although we have worked with the majority in the industry). We believe that we have the most robust and effective software applications in the industry using inexpensive common PC technology. We don't lock you in to “proprietary” screens, terminals, workstations, fittings etc. We use standard technology to deliver a cost effective business solution. an organization that can.

Typical Application

Customer Quotes

"We depend on Award Systems every day"

"We rarely need support. The program just keeps running"

"We have less staff and deal with far more customers than we ever have, and no more re-keying of data"

"Having data flow from transactions systems to the Debtors system and GL means far less errors and more productivity for our business"

Meeting your business growth

AWARD markets a number of Industrial programs and produces customised program packages to suit the specific needs of customers. Services provided by Award also include design, implementation and installation, training and support of custom written applications. We have dealt with small businesses through to large corporations and have specialist knowledge in the industrial arena. This has allowed AWARD to develop and maintain effective, simple to use products.

Integration and Reporting

Our products are superior as they have been specifically written to optimise their use in a particular field. This includes consideration of specific items such as keystrokes, ease of use and the ability for users to operate the system with minimal training.

We understand the business operations of industrial businesses and this such as security, pricing and invoicing get detailed attention in the our applications. The contract pricing section is extremely flexible with contract prices being able to be established for a period of time, for a particular customer (or customer group) and a particular product (or product group). A contract price can then override standard pricing during the creation of dockets.

Docket data is then used for generating invoices without the need for any re-keying. "One single source for all data".

Typical application

AWARD Services

AWARD offers a range of technology and management services. We offer extensive design and implementation services and support. We regularly assist companies with problem resolution outside the scope of our original brief. If we cannot directly assist in the technology area you are looking for we can put you in touch with an organization that can.
